GOP Plugs For New One

Senate Sustains President's Veto On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats weighed today the two-edged political effects of abandoning housing legislation in the face of sustained presidential vetoes.

Republicans, who furnished 27 of the 36 Senate votes which Friday upheld President Eisenhower's latest veto, plugged for action on a new bill. They were as aware as the Democrats of the possible political reaction to a slowdown in housing.

Chairman A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) called the Senate Banking Committee to debate the matter. Robertson said he is confident of committee approval of a bill acceptable to Eisenhower.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), chairman of a housing subcommittee, announced he was recommending no further action in this session. Sparkman said he is willing to "let the country see what it would be like to be without a housing program for a few months."

led the fight by which the veto was sustained on a 58-36 vote — five short of the two-thirds needed to override. Bush said he thinks the Democrats will come around when they cool off.

"I don't think they can take the responsibility for not having a bill," he said in an interview.

Eisenhower said in his veto message there is still time for Congress to enact a sound housing bill. Leaders are trying to adjourn next Saturday. The President complained that although the rejected measure was pared down from one he vetoed in July it still "goes too far."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, said he is convinced the country is behind Eisenhower in his efforts to curb the expansion of costly government programs.

Morton conceded, however, that "if we do tail off on home building it could have some political repercussions" against Republicans.

Traffic Toll Rises Steadily With 67 Dead

Motorists Urged To Drive With Care And Common Sense

Traffic toll rises steadily with 67 dead. Boating 1. Non-boating drownings 0. Miscellaneous 1. Total 52.

By The Associated Press
The toll of deaths in Labor Day weekend accidents rose steadily Saturday.

"The traffic toll is starting out heavy," commented the National Safety Council.

It urged motorists to drive with care and common sense. The weather was dry and warm in most areas, a condition that encourages speed.

Four Marines en route home for the holiday were killed when their car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer near Warrenton, Va.

The victims were Ronald Robinson, 24, of Howard, Pa.; Russell E. Dolen, 21, of Biglerville, Pa.; Thomas V. Buchanan, 19, of Elmira, N. Y.; and George Waldman, 18, of Williamsport, Pa.

They had been stationed at the Beaufort, S. C., Marine Air Station.

Another head-on collision of a truck and automobile killed three occupants of the car near Point Pleasant, W. Va. The truck driver was injured. Police said the truck driver carried a citation for speeding that had been issued at (Turn to TRAFFIC, Page 5)

Parks Prepare For Crowds For Labor Day

District parks are preparing for large crowds Labor Day, the wind-up of the summer season, but most of the centers will remain open indefinitely although somewhat curtailed.

Swimming in the tri-state area will end following Monday's holiday as both Thompson Park and Lake Marwin pools will close as will some park lakes.

The municipal swimming pool in Thompson Park will be open today, Sunday and Monday during the regular hours for "a last fling." The pool has been closed since Tuesday when schools opened.

Thompson Park will remain open for picnicking until cold weather. The Lake Marwin pool also will close following the holiday but the (Turn to HOLIDAY, Page 5)

Adjournment Being Pushed By Senators

Tough Legislation And Stubbornness Of Morse Bar Path

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators today continued their slow push toward adjournment, but in the path lay a host of tough legislation and the stubbornness of Wayne Morse.

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) has been dipping into his store of legislative know-how to toss parliamentary obstacles in the way of Senate leaders trying to close down shop by next Saturday.

On Labor Day, for example, Morse, angry that the Senate is scheduling work on a holiday, plans to read a three-volume history on labor to his colleagues.

But Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas intends to meet the Sept. 12 target date by keeping the Senate in long sessions. He let the tired legislators go home Friday night only after a working day that stretched over almost 14 hours.

At that time the sharply divided Senate was working on proposals to dispose of billions of dollars worth of government-held farm surpluses. It resumes work on the proposals today.

Although the legislators worked under limited debate, fiery oratory and a series of roll-call votes still left a pile of amendments to be considered.

When the farm surplus program is out of the way, the Senate still must consider such legislation as the foreign aid appropriation, the gasoline tax increase, the increase in interest rates on government bonds, a new public works bill. (Turn to CONGRESS, Page 2)

Red Premier Plans Peiping Visit Sept. 29

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev is heading for Peiping the day after he returns from his U.S. visit.

The Soviet leader said Friday he would go to the Red Chinese's capital Sept. 29. He did not discuss the purpose of the trip but it was clear he intends to brief Communist China's government on his talks with President Eisenhower.

(Red China has officially approved of the talks but Western diplomats have said they believed China felt left out when the exchange of visits was announced. The diplomats said the Chinese may feel any easing of U.S.-Soviet tensions could damage her own position with Moscow.)

Khrushchev made the surprise announcement during conversations with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz of Poland and other officials at a reception opening the Polish industrial exhibition here.

Eisenhower Concerned Over Laos

Declines Comment On Whether U.N. Should Send Troops

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—President Eisenhower is concerned about the situation in Laos where Communists are threatening the pro-Western royal government.

But the President refuses to comment on whether the United Nations should provide troops to meet the Red threat.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference today that the vacationing Eisenhower is getting regular reports on Laos.

"The President is keeping in close touch with the situation in Laos and it is a matter of concern to him," Hagerty said.

Hagerty declined to give any details on the nature of the reports to the President. He also refused to comment on the request to the U.N. for military support.

Asked whether the U.S. National Security Council might be called into a special session to consider the situation in Laos, Hagerty replied:

"I have nothing more to say." Laos accused neighboring Communist North Viet Nam of helping the rebels and appealed to the United Nations to send "in the shortest possible time an emergency force in order to stop the aggression and prevent it from spreading."

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is hurrying back from a visit to Brazil to consider the Laos' appeal with the possibility of calling an emergency meeting of the Security Council on Monday.

Eisenhower, who is taking a weekend rest in Scotland from his arduous diplomatic mission to Western Europe, is due to return to Washington on Monday.

But the President is enjoying his golf in Scotland and may stay a day longer.

Japs Hint Red China Flood Of Bogus Bills

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese police say Communist China may be flooding the Far East with counterfeit U.S. 20 dollar bills to try to undermine confidence in American currency.

A police source reported today the bills have been found in Japan, South Korea and Okinawa.

Do You Want The Best Education For Your Youngsters? Then Read School Series Starting In Review Tuesday

Conscientious parents and public spirited citizens will want to read every word of the important series on education that will start Tuesday in The Review.

It is a condensation of the new book, "How To Get The Best Education For Your Child," by the eminent educator, Dr. Benjamin Fine and his wife, Lillian Fine, also a trained educator.

Unlike other books you may have read in this field, Dr. Fine's comes to grips with ordinary, everyday problems that beset any parent intent on seeing that his child gets the best possible instruction under increasingly difficult conditions of overcrowding, teacher shortages and conflicting theories.

What should you do if your child can't get along with his teacher? Should you or your son decide on what college he attends? When is a parent justified in complaining to the principal?

Dr. Fine's thought-provoking, sometimes controversial answers are sure to be helpful, and sure to be discussed. You will miss out on a lot of good conversation, as well as a lot of helpful ideas, if you skip any of the installments.

The book already has attracted critical acclaim. Says the Saturday Review of Literature: "It will certainly take its

They are now assisting Communist troops allegedly invading Laos from neighboring North Viet Nam. The president of the U.N. Five Children, Mother Die Of Gas Poisoning

Vacationing Family Victims Of Tragedy In Wisconsin Cabin

TOWNSEND, Wis. (AP)—The five children of a vacationing Milwaukee family were found dead in their cottage near this northeastern Wisconsin community late Friday night and their mother died this morning. All apparently were victims of gas poisoning which struck them down sometime Thursday night.

Mrs. Gloria Rovge, 32, the mother of the children who had been staying with them while her husband worked during the week at his job in Milwaukee, died today at a hospital in Laona.

The children were identified as Kathy, 10; Chris, 7; Cindy, 5; Keny, 3, and Caroline, 1.

The bodies were found at about 11 p.m. when Mrs. Kenneth Posselt of Townsend, and a baby sister, Sandy Sackett, called at the Rovge cottage on McClaughlin (Turn to POISONING, Page 2)

On Scotland Vacation

President Relaxes At Golfing Again

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—President Eisenhower today began another round of golf by topping his first drive into the rough.

"My, my," he sighed, as he smilingly shook his head. The President followed two other players who did the same thing.

Standing on the first tee of the Turnberry course where he played Friday, Eisenhower joked with his partners and a group of about 20 spectators and policemen.

The President is relaxing in Scotland until Monday after his nine-day mission of consultations with West European leaders on the eve of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

The sun was shining brightly as the foursome went to the tee. "We'll play for a bob a side," said the President. A bob means a shilling—which is 14 cents. The President was teamed again with Turnberry's Club professional, Ian Marchbank. Playing against them were U.S. Ambassador to Britain John Hay Whitney and William E. Robinson, chairman of the board of Coca Cola.

Robinson, an old golfing friend of the President, arrived at Culzean Castle this morning. He had flown in from New York.

With Robinson was another old golfing friend, W. Alton Jones, chairman of the board of Cities Service.

Eisenhower arrived Friday from Paris saying he was tempted to catch up on his sleep rather than play golf. But the lure of the game was too much and he got in 18 holes during the afternoon.

Later the President made public two messages he had sent to French President Charles de Gaulle. They expressed thanks for France's hospitality and conviction (Turn to IKE, Page 2)

$5,000 Bond Frees Yoho In Beaver Arrest

Extortion, Charged To Former State Insurance Aide

BEAVER FALLS (AP)—Robert Yoho, recently fired from his job with the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, gained his freedom with $5,000 bond Friday after arrest on charges of extortion and conspiracy to extort.

Dist. Atty. Richard P. Steward of New Brighton filed the charges yesterday before Justice of the Peace Frank Storar in Baden.

Yoho posted the surety last night at 9:30 before Squire Storar for appearance next Friday afternoon. He is the first of a number of Prosecutors Steward said he expects to arrest in the next few days.

Informations are expected to be filed against several persons and all will be given a hearing at the same time. Cases will be held for the September term of the Grand Jury.

Informations were served by State Police officers, James D. Barger and Roy Tittler, recently appointed by Frank McCartney, state police commissioner, to aid the investigation.

Steward said he decided that "some charges should be filed" as a result of evidence uncovered by investigators. He said no special Grand Jury investigation is planned at this time.

Steward said charges were filed in connection with the report of State Auditor General Charles E. Smith charging Yoho and Samuel G. Neff with collecting kickbacks from Beaver County highway contractors on equipment rented by the State Highway Department.

It was Smith's charges that led to the dismissal of Yoho and Neff, who was head of the insurance fund.

Emergency Session Due On Monday

Diplomats Expect Soviets To Veto Any Intervention

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold hurried home from South America today to deal with Laos' appeal for a U.N. task force to stop any aggression from Communist North Viet Nam.

Diplomats expected the 11-nation Security Council to be called into an emergency session Monday but predicted the Soviet Union would veto any U.N. intervention into the fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

In the event of a Soviet veto in the Council any seven members of the Council can call an emergency session of the 82-nation General Assembly within 24 hours.

The feeling is that the Assembly would approve help to the hard-pressed Buddhist kingdom.

Diplomats representing the anti-Communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization met in Washington Friday night. A statement issued afterward emphasized that Laos is "within the region of direct interest of SEATO."

Laos is not a member of SEATO but the anti-Communist organization regards Laos as under its protection.

It was understood that there was no substantial discussion of intervention by SEATO while the Laos appeal rests before the U.N.

The United States is rushing aid to strengthen Laos' military defenses. A C47 transport plane was handed over Friday—the first of six aircraft promised under the American aid program.

Hammarskjold was due in New York on a flight from Rio de Janeiro at 4:15 p.m. He cut short a two-week South American tour to set up a Council meeting for Sunday or Monday after a formal Laotian note charged that foreign troops reinforced and supplied from outside Laos have been fighting the royal Laotian army on the northeastern frontier since July 16.

Laos named "elements coming from Communist North Viet Nam and charged artillery was fired from across the border." (Turn to U.N., Page 2)

2 Power Line Workers Hurt

Tower Frame Falls On Pair At Irondale

Two construction workers were hospitalized with injuries received when a large section of steel frame fell on them while erecting towers for high tension lines Friday near Irondale.

Sydney Hinch, 47, of Toronto and Gerald Keller, 22, of Shadyside are in "fair" condition today at City Hospital. They are employed by the L. E. Myers Construction Co., which is erecting the towers for the Ohio Edison Co.

Hinch was the more seriously injured. Keller probably will be released today. They were holding to a large section of the tower framing which was being pulled into place by a tractor.

An "A" frame being used slipped, allowing the frame to fall back onto the men. Hinch and Keller caught the frame for a brief instant but the weight was too much for them to hold. The impact of the falling frame knocked Keller clear but the full weight hit Hinch.

Hinch was treated at the emergency room for a laceration of the chin and lip and is being examined for possible internal injuries. Keller was treated for a laceration of the right brow and was X-rayed for internal injuries.

The towers will carry electric power to the Akron area from Ohio Edison's new plant being constructed at Stratton.

Notice! Local 21 Election polls will be open Tuesday 2-7 p. m. at IBOP Auditorium to vote on pension referendum. By order of President.—Ad.

House Okays Labor Bill; Goes To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a lopsided vote of 352-52, the House Friday passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill fulfilling his demand for stern measures to fight racketeering in labor unions.

Thus ended a battle that raged over two congressional sessions and saw some of the most intense lobbying ever conducted by union and management groups. The compromise passed the Senate 95-2 last night.

On the final House vote, 214 Democrats and 138 Republicans voted for passage. Opposed were 51 Democrats and a single Republican—Rep. Paul A. Fino, of New York.

To the bitter end, House members argued over whether the compromise—pattered along the lines of the original House bill—is a union-buster.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin, Republican, Michigan, co-author of the original House measure, told the House the compromise "is a bill which will permit honest unions to grow."

Chairman Graham Barden, Democrat, North Carolina, of the House Labor Committee said the compromise, as fashioned by a Senate-House conference committee, "will be approved by the American people, and it's going to be approved by the labor rank and file."

The bill which cleared Congress today is the first major overhaul of the nation's labor laws since the Taft-Hartley Act was passed 12 years ago.

Much of the impetus for this new labor control legislation came from Senate Rackets Committee investigations which centered largely on the activities of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

There is little, if any, doubt that Mr. Eisenhower will sign the compromise, which comes close to his recommendations for strict labor control measures to cope with union corruption.

The bill as sent to the White House spells out new safeguards for the rights of union members, requirements for financial reporting by unions and employers, measures intended to insure Democratic elections in unions, and other provisions aimed at preventing labor leaders from abusing their offices.

It also bans secondary boycotts involving neutral third parties in labor disputes, outlaws what is termed blackmail picketing, and restricts the practice of organizational picketing.

Disappointment Hits Russians As U.S. Closes Moscow Show

MOSCOW (AP) — Thousands of Russians waiting to get a glimpse of American life were disappointed Friday night when the first U.S. exhibition in Moscow closed its gates before they could get in.

But 140,000 other Muscovites made the final day. U.S. officials said it was the biggest daily crowd since America opened its popular display of capitalist accomplishments 43 days ago.

The exhibition, which was the scene of the famous Khrushchev-Nixon kitchen debate, was termed a success by the Soviet news agency Tass which said more than two million visited the show.

A U.S. official said 2,700,000 attended.

The fair was closed in ceremonies that included the lowering of the United States and Soviet flags at the exhibition's main entrance in Sokolniki Park.

It reopened briefly for a special showing for nine U.S. congressmen, who arrived late from the Inter-Parliamentary Union meeting in Warsaw.

All major buildings will be turned over to the Soviet government under agreements that provided for an exchange of exhibits here and in New York. A deal to sell numerous displays to the Soviets has not yet been concluded.

Driver Fined As He Reports Crashing Pole

A Pleasant Heights motorist lost his license for two weeks after pleading guilty today in Municipal Court to leaving the scene of an accident early this morning on the Lisbon St. hill.

Judge George L. Brokaw suspended the license of James William Davis, 27, of Frances St. and fined him $25 and costs on the charge filed after Davis appeared at City Hall to report the mishap.

Police said the crash occurred when Davis' auto struck an Ohio Power Co. pole on Lisbon St., about 100 feet west of the W. 9th St. intersection. Davis claimed he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and lost control.

The accident happened at 3:07 a. m., police said, but Davis abandoned his car at the scene and didn't appear at City Hall until 9:08 a. m.

A North Side driver forfeited bond as the aftermath of a collision Friday afternoon on E. 4th St.

Westley L. Fulmer, 55, of 1031 Oak St. forfeited $16 on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way when his truck struck the rear of a westbound car operated by William D. Herbron, 33, of 514 W. 9th St. at E. 4th St. and Crook Alley at 2 p. m. yesterday.

Police said the two drivers agreed Fulmer was turning west from Crook Alley onto E. 4th St. when he hit the right rear of Herbron's auto.

Charles E. Barmer, 23, of Chester R. D. 1 was fined $25 and costs by Judge Brokaw after being found guilty of reckless driving following an accident at 3:39 a. m. today at W. 8th St. and Edwards Ave.

Barmer told police a car passed him on W. 8th St. and he then passed it when he saw the yellow caution light at Edwards Ave. and applied his brakes but lost control. The bumper of his car was damaged, police said.

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Jessie Finson, of Rt. 2, Geneva, was killed Friday when she walked or ran into the side of a moving truck on Main Street. Hers was the first traffic death here in 12 years.

Korean GI Bill Changes Clarified

Veterans taking education under the Korean GI Bill are allowed wider latitude in arranging their long-term programs under a law signed Aug. 11 by the President.

William Holsinger, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Cleveland, said schools in Ohio are being notified of the more liberal interpretations now possible under the "change of program" clause in the law.

This clause at times has penalized veterans seeking progressive educational or training objectives.

Previously, a veteran was required to list his final objective when setting up his educational program. He was permitted to change this program just once and then only under specified conditions.

Under the new amendment, a veteran still may change his program just once but no change is charged against him if the first program is a prerequisite to or generally required for entrance into the second program.

Holsinger said the new law is not retroactive and that previously denied applications will not be reviewed. However, new applications filed in cases previously acted upon may be approved under the terms of the amendment. Veterans who, because of previous restrictions, interrupted their training for more than 12 months will not be penalized, if the new application can not be approved.

Curb Meter 'Attacker' Forfeits Bond Of $16

A LaCrosse man, charged with damaging a parking meter with his fist after being denied a drink in an E. 6th St. bar Thursday afternoon, forfeited a $16 bond today when he failed to appear for a hearing in Municipal Court.

The hearing was scheduled this morning for Bud Fleming, who told Judge George L. Brokaw Friday that he couldn't recall the incident. The judge entered the not guilty plea and set his hearing for this morning.

Police said Fleming was enraged after refused a drink in Freed's Tavern "because he was intoxicated" and struck the meter with his fist, breaking the glass. He then entered a parked truck and went to sleep, officers said. Fleming was fined $10 and costs yesterday on an intoxication charge.

Congress

and, perhaps, another housing bill.

The antagonism between Morse and Johnson over adjournment appears to be growing sharper.

Morse was off the floor when Johnson obtained unanimous consent of the Senate to consider overriding the housing veto.

Afterwards, Morse wrote an angry note to Johnson: "I was called off the floor for not more than three minutes on an emergency matter."

"Subsequently, when I tried to discuss this matter at your desk with you, I was met with an inexcusable flare of temper on your part and a serving of notice by you that I would have to be on the floor to protect my parliamentary rights and you would protect yours."

During recess later, reporters noticed the two talking together in the Senate chamber. Morse shook his head, tapped on a parliamentary rules book several times and was heard to tell Johnson: "You go over there and sit in your chair and run the Senate, and I'll take care of myself."

In the floor battle on farm surpluses, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a presidential aspirant, won one important point when the Senate approved a three-year extension and a 4½ billion dollar authorization for sales of surpluses for foreign currencies. The vote was 47-38.

The administration had asked a simple one-year extension of this program and a 1½ billion dollars additional authority.

Republicans from farm areas helped Humphrey triple the administration proposal.

But some of them joined Southern Democrats in an hour later to defeat 48-39 Humphrey's effort to label the surplus program as a "food for peace" act.

Commission's Report Due

Dixie Senator Denounces Civil Rights Unit Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Southern senator already has denounced a forthcoming report of the Civil Rights Commission as vicious, obnoxious, outright dictatorship and a rape of the rights of the states and the people.

The report, the first by the six-man commission since it was set up in 1957, is not due to be published until next Tuesday. But advance copies of parts of it are circulating in the Senate.

A Northerner, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), defended the report Friday as "a balanced, well-documented analysis of the legal and moral problems in the way of realizing equality under the law."

Keating said "The commission's recommendations for the most part are very moderate."

There have been growing signs that Senate leaders are dropping the idea of fighting for a civil rights bill before adjournment, except for a simple extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, which expires in two months.

But the bitterness of the Southern reaction to the advance copies may foreshadow a long and angry fight over even that much in the way of civil rights.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) said if the reports recommendations were followed it would mean a "further rape of the states and the people" by the federal government.

Thurmond disclosed that one proposal "would substitute a federal registrar to determine who is eligible to vote under state laws and to dictate registration lists to the state registration officials."

"Three of the commissioners," he added, "have the audacity to propose that the Constitution be amended to allow the federal government rather than the states to decide who should vote. This could well be called a proposal for outright dictatorship."

"The most obnoxious and vicious proposals do not even carry the support of a majority of the commissioners," Thurmond said.

tion that "common understanding had been advanced" as a result of their talks.

One of Eisenhower's principal objectives in visiting Europe was to bring France into closer cooperation with other Atlantic Alliance nations.

When the President completed his golf round shortly before dinner, he got a word of praise.

He was pictured as "a wonderful bloke" (Scottish for "all right guy") by Ian Marchbank, the 27-year-old club professional at Turnberry's Ailsa Course.

Eisenhower, teamed with Marchbank, had an 89 on the round. That was 18 strokes over par, but not much above his scores in the United States.

Marchbank had a 69, two under par and that did much to help him and Eisenhower win. They defeated Brig. Sir James Gault, one of Eisenhower's wartime comrades, and James P. Gray, one of the President's hosts here.

Eisenhower is staying at Culzean Castle in a luxurious apartment given him for life by Scotland. The gift was presented after World War II in appreciation of Eisenhower's service as supreme Allied commander in the European theater.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced that the President plans to start back to Washington by plane Monday morning. But Hagerty also hinted that if the weather remains as glorious as it was Friday, the President may stay on a bit longer.

In a message to De Gaulle Eisenhower renewed his invitation to De Gaulle to visit Washington. "From the discussions we had," Eisenhower said, "I feel strongly that common understanding has been advanced and that our common purposes have been clarified and reaffirmed."

U.N.

The royal Laotian government asked the U.N. to send an emergency force as soon as possible "to stop the aggression and prevent it from spreading."

While Laos asked for a force to "stop aggression," there was some feeling that it might be satisfied with something like the non-fighting U.N. Emergency Force now guarding the Egypt-Israel border.

The Security Council is empowered by the U. N. Charter to call on member countries for armed force to maintain international peace.

Even though most diplomats expect the Soviet Union to veto any such call, some believe the Soviets might agree to the Council sending observers to Laos to look for infiltrators, as it did to Lebanon last summer.

The more general view, however, is that the Soviet delegation will propose the Council suggest a revival of the dormant Canadian-Indian-Polish control commission for Laos.

This commission was set up at the 1954 Geneva conference that ended the Indochina War and made Laos an independent state.

"What can I get with this New Homeowners Policy?"

"Plenty! More protection—and maybe save money, too!"

Khrushchev Cites

'Peaceful Competition'

LONDON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev says the only fear the West need have of the Soviet-led Communist bloc is "peaceful competition."

The Soviet Premier told a Polish reception in Moscow Friday night: "We will never make use of any weapons against other states if no armed attack is made on us or our friends."

Khrushchev said in the speech broadcast by Moscow Radio "We are challenging the capitalist countries to peaceful competition. In this competition of two systems, there will be no loss of life, no blood will be shed in war among states."

Natives of the Florida Keys are called "Conches."

Yellowstone Park Jarred By New Quake

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—A mild earthquake shook the central portion of Yellowstone National Park today, but there were no reports of damage or injury.

A stack of dishes was broken in a cafeteria at Canyon, a resort a few miles north of Yellowstone Lake. Some Labor Day week-end vacationers were awakened by the tremor, preceded by two of less intensity.

The quake was described by Joseph E. Primeau, general manager of the cafeteria, as the strongest since the Aug. 17 earthquakes.

These tremors caused slides in Montana which left 28 persons dead or missing and presumed dead in an area just west of the park boundary. No one within the park was seriously injured in the earlier quakes, but the western entrance to the preserve was blocked for several days.

Ard Kincaide, a park ranger, said today's shocks had been apparently confined to the area of the Grand Canyon of Yellowstone in the center of the park.

"It may have caused some rockslides," Kincaide said.

The sharpest jolt was felt at 5 a. m. The milder shocks came at about 2 a. m. and 4 a. m.

But at Mammoth, in the northern edge of the park, a park ranger told The Associated Press he was not awakened by the tremor.

The 5 a. m. jolt at Canyon was preceded by milder shocks at about 3 a. m. and 4 a. m.

Canyon is one of the newest resorts in the park by virtue of a modernization program under the National Park Service mission 66 program.

Mr. K Has Put It In Writing

The biggest move in the mid-month meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev has made no headlines.

It is a long article by the Russian premier in the October issue of Foreign Affairs. Like a lawyer getting ready to plead a case, Mr. K has filed his brief. Between Mr. Eisenhower's return and Mr. K's arrival on Sept. 15, every line and phrase will have to be studied by the State Department. The President, himself, will have to know it by heart and be prepared to reply to it, or he will be wasting his time in meeting the head of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Fortunately, the brief is crystal-clear. It says the nations of this shrinking world must find a way to exist as peaceful competitors or they will become embroiled in a nuclear war that would destroy them. It says the U.S.S.R. is sure that socialism ultimately will have been proved so superior to capitalism it has no reason to fear for its future in a competitive showdown.

But in deference to capitalism, Mr. K's brief says it need have no fear of socialist interference if it will quit interfering with socialism and that his government wants to set up firm trade relations with the United States; it already is trading with other capitalist countries. His government wants, also, to lighten its armament burden so more wealth can be diverted to improvement of living conditions, an aim he feels sure is shared by the United States.

AS FOR GERMANY, Mr. K repeats what he has said at length before — that Russia fears a revival of Hitler's credo that lost territory must be recovered and wants to settle the terms of a German peace treaty that will keep Germany divided and neutralize the power of West Berlin as a focal point of German pride.

The net effect of the brief is to confront President Eisenhower and his advisers with as massive a blast of dialectics as the 20th century descendants of the masterful Marx ever fired at an unready and unprepared target. Everything in the brief has an aura of plausibility about it, which is the trade secret of those who have mastered this modern instrument of confusion.

The trick is to bore through the protective coating of plausibility into the heart of the case.

President Eisenhower merely needs to remind Premier Khrushchev that exactly the same approach was made to the United States in November 1934, before the phrase "peaceful coexistence" had been coined.

THIS GOVERNMENT granted diplomatic recognition to the Soviet Union in 1934 on the Kremlin's promise to quit seeking the overthrow of the U.S. government with Communist propaganda and to withdraw its support of Communist agents in this country.

Russia did not keep its promise then. It did not abide by its pledge to quit interfering.

Peaceful coexistence proved to be the least of its intentions.

Unless Nikita Khrushchev can prove that noninterference is now a Communist policy, he can make no promises worth listening to. That has been the sticking point in every attempt to get along with Communist Russia for the 42 years it has been in existence.

As long as Russia insists on trying to overthrow every government it cannot control, it has no claim on international good will.

Hand Still Quicker Than The Eye

If the Republican minorities in the House and Senate do finally bulldoze the Democratic majorities into supporting a pay-as-you-build principle in the federal highway program, there still will be a catch in it.

The catch will be revenue diverted from the general fund of the federal government to cover the fund shortage caused by Democratic refusal to levy an additional gas tax of a cent and a half, instead of one cent.

This is the familiar practice of robbing Peter to pay Paul.

It is the equally familiar practice of assuming that the politician's hand always is quicker than the taxpayer's eye — that the taxpayer will not notice that the Democratic majority in Congress created a shortage in one fund to conceal the fact of a shortage in another fund.

All the money diverted into the highway program from the general fund will have to be replaced, or there simply will be another net addition to the national debt, now booming along toward 300 billion dollars.

It will be an interest-bearing tribute to the favorite Democratic credo that money was intended to be spent, not collected. If there hadn't been a determined Republican drive in this session of Congress to make Democrats toe the mark, the entire cost of the federal highway program for a full year would have been tacked on to the national debt.

The alternative — which the Democratic majority also toyed with — was to scuttle the program for a year, leaving all the states that had made commitments to build federal interstate highways high and dry with their funds tied up and their roads half built.

That might have been cute politics in advance of the next presidential election, but it would have been a disaster either in highway construction or public finance; the Democrats didn't seem to care which way it turned out.

This has been a clear-cut partisan issue. To a considerable extent it came about because of the inability of the Democratic majority in the House to handle its committee responsibilities. There was a breakdown of orderly procedure in the Ways and Means Committee.

The damage has not been repaired by a sleight-of-hand compromise that has concealed only partly the financial irresponsibility of the Democratic majority.

Dump No Trash

The litterbugs are still at it, according to reports from Calcutta, the Smiths Ferry Rd. area and other points.

It is always difficult to understand what makes people desecrate the countryside.

A new city refuse ground was opened recently and other proper methods are provided, but many still seem to get a fiendish delight from dumping trash in the very places where it shouldn't be dumped.

So long as this practice continues, those caught in the act should be prosecuted to the limit of the law. Ignorance is no excuse, since illegal dumping and the penalties that go with it have been emphasized time and again. "No Dumping" signs mean just that!

labs and revealing secret to the Soviets, is now nuclear chief for the Comies in East Germany. He got only nine years and this slight interference with treachery will not seriously hamper him.

Khrushchev will bring Mikhail Sholokhov, Russian author with him. Any help with bedtime stories will be welcome by him.

Eddie Rickenbacker is retiring as chief executive officer of an airlines, putting Mal MacIntyre, a younger man, in his place. There are few greater dramas in fact or fiction more stirring than Eddie's career. He began as an auto driver, turned to auto racing, flew the first combat planes in World War I and became a national hero twice. First through his bravery in France and again in that epic survival on a raft in the Pacific. He may think he is easing up his duties, but don't be fooled. It isn't in the man to take it easy.

Suntan, we just read, used to be regarded as a stigma of day laborers. From the time of the colonists, Americans were not beach goers until a half century ago. Only the rich went to ocean resorts, few women went for a swim, and mothers became panicky at a report the kids were near a pond. Today if there's anybody in the family who hasn't won a swimming medal it's a cause for alarm.

JOSEPH N. WELCH, a New England attorney who came into the Army-McCarthy TV hearings as an unknown, is about the only living principal who has benefited greatly. Roy Cohn, Private Shine, (what were the names of that Tennessee counsel and War Department official?) and others are hard to remember but Joe Welch's name is on countless movie marquees. He is a typical New Englander in the homespun tradition, apparently extra humble but he is in truth a keen, alert fellow deeply responsive to opportunity and capable of unusual talents in show biz.

Nothing awes him. He is a born performer. He may be seen in other movies and has already been signed for further TV appearances. Most of the other characters in the famous probe must be somewhat groggy at the eminence of this homespun New Englander as an American public figure having a wonderful time in the world of entertainment.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

The power of faith in healing has been recognized by the Texas Medical Center in Houston through its establishment of an Institute of Religion. These ministerial students are trained to become part of a health team, including the physician, psychiatrist, minister...

As chaplain interns, they learn to work with people of all denominations and walks of life. They make no attempt to cram doctrine down a patient's throat. They gain practical preparation for the many situations they will face in their future pastorates. Their faith is reinforced with knowledge and experience, and the understanding of what the medical specialist is trying to accomplish.

Not only ministerial students and ministers attend the Institute, but medical students, nurses and doctors who learn the importance of faith to well being, the role of the pastor on a healing team, and the resources the church has to offer to aid them in their practice. A former president of the American Medical Association, Elmer Hess, M.D., tells me:

"Sometimes what we need most in the sickroom is not the medicine that we prescribe. It is the faith and hope that we can instill in our patients. I don't care whether you are a Catholic, a Protestant or a Jew, just as long as you believe in a Power greater than all the instruments of science at your command."

Will The Trains Stop Running?

By Victor Riesel

Within a fortnight, there will be a 100-million-dollar cache on which the steel strikers will be able to draw to stay well housed, well fed, well clothed and high spirited in their campaign against the big steel industry.

The first 25 million will be the easiest to raise — and spend. If the steel strikers need more, another 25 million can be raised.

The first contribution of any size will be announced during the second day of the AFL-CIO convention in San Francisco.

There, midst denunciation of all industry, it will be revealed that all 13½ million AFL-CIO members will contribute a dollar apiece.

Then a series of gifts and loans to the Steel Union — totaling at least 12 million — will be disclosed. These will come from other labor organizations, including the million dollars thrown in the kitty by Walter Reuther, acting as head of the Industrial Union Dept.

This is industrial war. And war by any other name means taxes. So to add to this budget, Dave McDonald's United Steelworkers plan to tax all working members of the coast-to-coast union 10 per cent of their pay. This should bring in another 3 million dollars a week.

IF THIS isn't enough — and it won't be — the Steel Union's national headquarters and its 2,800 locals will pitch their own treasures into the logistics of 1959's version of a class war. This means another 70 million.

Union chiefs feel it isn't the money, it's the principle and their personal interest in this showdown.

They feel they can't permit the steel industry to win this one. They are saying that as steel goes, so goes the national pattern for the next decade.

During the past two weeks, deep in their own private councils, the labor leaders have been talking of "meeting the challenge."

They see this steel front war as a battle to the finish between industry, all industry, with steel the duelist for the nation's business.

They see the Steel Union being regarded by all as the champion of all labor.

They are stalked by another haunting thought. They see this as the moment of decision in the automation revolution.

As all insiders do, the labor leaders view the basic issue in this battle as management's desire to shift the work force around so full benefit can come from the "electronic brain" and from the machine which runs other machines.

THE UNIONISTS realize that industrial believes it will do little good, for example, to invent a new furnace which can whip out 100 tons of steel in one hour instead of eight, if the corporation has to retain the same work force.

Labor, therefore, believes that to lose this battle is to lose what power the union chiefs have won inside the plants in the past 50 years or more — when the last such fight over machines was waged.

Thus the entire labor movement will throw in what cash it believes will keep the 300,000 steel strikers from going hungry and from pressuring their leaders from below for a settlement on high.

If the industry then stands pat, as it has consistently and honestly said it would, this strike will run through December. And it may even run through next February if President Eisenhower forces it to take an 80-day Taft-Hartley holiday next month.

AT THAT POINT the steel strike will become just a lesser crisis within a real crisis.

Like cold weather, there's a rail strike looming. No one really knows when it will break out. There will be a National Mediation Board panel, an emergency panel and a cooling off period.

Nothing can stop the rail unions from striking sometime in February. With the steel strike running again, after its own 80-day cooling off period, there would be almost two million men on the picket line.

That's what's worrying the highest federal labor experts — a land of no mill whistles and no train whistles. A land in crisis. It could happen here this winter.

Red China Love

By David T. K. Wong

HONG KONG and sincerity, consistent loyalty to the party, to the mother country and to revolutionary organizations, the nontelling of lies to the party and to comrades, diligence, thriftiness and an opposition to extravagance and waste.

The party's official organ, "The People's Daily," launched the campaign with an article entitled "Treat Marriage Seriously."

The article charged that there were many workers who did not treat marriage in a serious way. "Having just reached the legal age (20 for men and 18 for women), they make love and then get married, putting on themselves a family burden which is beneficial neither to their work nor to their lives," the newspaper said.

Furthermore, the paper observed that there were many young men and women who considered money and position as conditions for marriage rather than political, ideological and labor achievements.

Such an attitude toward love was an expression of corrupt bourgeois thinking which was repugnant to the moral standards of a Communist society, the paper added.

Then, in another article in "The Peiping Daily Worker," the authorities spelled out the definition of Communist morality.

"In questions of love and marriage, a man must respect the opposite sex with revolutionary humanism and adopt a responsible attitude."

"In the family, he respects the old, loves and protects the children, supports his parents and fulfills his duties of bringing up his children," the article, titled "What Is Communist Morality?" said.

The other elements which made up Communist morality were a passionate love for the mother country, a passionate love for labor, a strong collectivist spirit, honesty and sincerity, consistent loyalty to the party, to the mother country and to revolutionary organizations, the nontelling of lies to the party and to comrades, diligence, thriftiness and an opposition to extravagance and waste.

Khrushchev's Mistake

By David Lawrence

Those Deprived Of 'Rights' Always Rise Up

Nikita Khrushchev must think the American people are dumb or naive and can readily be deceived. There seems to be no other logical explanation for the hypocritical article which he wrote for "Foreign Affairs," a quarterly magazine published by the Council on Foreign Relations of New York City, a private group.

David Lawrence

In that article, Mr. Khrushchev demands that the free world accept as an accomplished fact the conquest of eastern Europe by the Soviet armies and the continued enslavement of the "captive nations," including such formerly independent countries as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary.

These, he says in effect, must remain forever under the military domination and duress of the Communist government in Moscow. The Soviet Premier says that the resolution adopted by the Congress of the United States a few weeks ago, declaring its sympathy with the "captive nations," was "an act of provocation."

He then proceeds to suggest sarcastically that Americans would have been similarly annoyed "if the Parliament of Mexico had passed a resolution demanding that Texas, Arizona and California be 'liberated from American slavery.'"

Actually, very few people would be annoyed today if that happened. In fact, a resolution by any democratic government on the subject of free elections would be welcomed because it probably would urge that the United Nations be asked to conduct free elections — such as have been held regularly for more than a century in Arizona, California and Texas — so that the people of the various states of the Soviet Union itself, as well as the "captive" states, could determine what government they wish to govern them.

MR. KHRUSHCHEV hopes the world will forget that he himself ordered his foreign minister at the recent Geneva Conference to turn down the plan offered by Britain, France and the United States that an election be held in both East and West Germany to let the German people choose a single government.

Mr. Khrushchev defines "peaceful coexistence" in terms that have been repeatedly violated in the last 15 years by the Soviet imperialists. He writes:

"Apart from the commitment to nonaggression, it (peaceful coexistence) also presupposes an obligation on the part of all states to desist from violating each other's territorial integrity and sovereignty in any form and under any pretext whatsoever."

"The principle of coexistence signifies a renunciation of interference in the internal affairs of other countries with the object of altering their system of government or mode of life or for any other motives."

Yet how would the Soviet Premier justify the Soviet's sending of munitions of war to attack and invade the independent Korean Republic or the dispatch of arms to help Communist sympathizers to destroy the national government on the mainland of China?

How would he classify the dispatch of arms to the Middle East by the Soviet government to intensify friction between the countries there?

How would the Soviet Premier define the sending of Soviet troops to East Germany and Hungary, where the people were coerced to accept Communist rule?

How would the Soviet Premier characterize the invasion of India and Laos this summer by Communist forces or the recent overthrow of the constituted government of Tibet?

WOULD HE IGNORE the fact that in every case there was a violation of the territorial integrity and sovereignty of other nations by Soviet imperialism?

In what country of the world indeed has the apparatus of Communist imperialism not been established, with its agents of subversion financed by Moscow to encroach upon the sovereignty of independent governments?

Apparently Mr. Khrushchev is not well informed on what has been happening in the "cold war" in the last few years. His efforts to oversimplify the struggle in the world today as merely a clash between two rival systems of social or economic ideology reveals transparently the insincerity and fakery in his approach to a serious-minded audience in the United States such as the Council on Foreign Relations in New York City.

There is a certain boldness and arrogance in Mr. Khrushchev's flat assertion that: "In our day there are only two ways: 'Peaceful coexistence' or the most destructive war in history — there is no third choice."

There is indeed a third choice — it's honest coexistence. But this, of course, means freedom and human liberty and the right of every people to choose their own form of government without any outside pressure or duress.

Mr. Khrushchev isn't willing to have that kind of coexistence. It's a choice, therefore, today between autocratic government and democracy, between tyranny and freedom, between ideals of human liberty and the cruel despotism of the modern czar of Russia who is bent on world conquest.

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV is as foggy as Adolf Hitler and misguidedly as determined to win by threats what he is not sure he can win by force of arms.

While nobody wants war, Mr. Khrushchev had better read American history and note that from the earliest days of this republic there were men who cried out, "Give me liberty or give me death."

That's what will eventually prove the undoing of Nikita Khrushchev and his gangster regime as the peoples of the captive countries, including peoples in parts of the Soviet Union like the Ukraine, will some day rise up to demand their freedom and independence.

History is not "irreversible," as Mr. Khrushchev claims. History really repeats itself often where injustice and despotism have deprived men of human rights.

It Works For Us

By Truman Twill

A lady I know has been canning tomatoes. There must be acres of them, judged by the length of time she says she has been at this steamy chore in some of the hottest weather we've had in years. The big thing is that no necessity exists. The tomatoes do not represent survival.

We used to can tomatoes at our house. We canned and froze string beans and other garden produce. And before that, in our family house, my mother stocked an entire supply cellar with everything we needed — beans, peas, tomatoes, sauerkraut, grape juice, corn, beets, preserves, pickles, marmalades, apple sauce, apples, even preserved eggs. That's all my mother ever did at one time in her life — fill that cellar.

The place used to look like a Grange exhibit. There would be a bin with all the potatoes the family would eat until the next potato season. Other bins would contain apples, onions, carrots buried in sand and heads of cabbage. We'd have a whole wheel of cheese down there. We ate out of the cellar. We went to the store only for tidbits.

But meanwhile another view has come into being, in my opinion, which is this: That in our kind of economic society each of us should do the best he can do in his specialty and stay out of the other fellow's.

We let the tomato canneries do all the tomato-canning.

We let the truck gardeners raise the garden truck.

We let the jam-and-preserve industry take care of the spread on the bread.

We let the fruit-growers grow the fruit.

Whether or not we might be able to save a few bucks if we worked our tails off, gardening, canning, freezing, pickling and drying all the stuff we conceivably could raise if we had the time is unimportant. The important thing is that the only way we could find the time would be to steal it from time already being spent on things closer to our livelihood than production and preservation of food-stuffs.

A lot of food has gone across the table since Americans were still fighting to keep their toe-hold on survival in a new land. Food production, processing and distribution have become vastly more efficient than anyone would have thought they could as recently as World War II.

We quit canning tomatoes long ago, though we aim to have some fresh ones around from our own patch.

We quit saving beans when it became evident we'd had it and wouldn't care if we didn't see another bean for six months. We now let people with special equipment and know-how grow the fruit and vegetables, and we let specialists can and preserve the bounty of nature.

It may not be the best way for you and you and you — but it works all right for us. If food growers and handlers will stay out of our backyards, we'll stay out of theirs.

Dealing With Union Reform, T-H Amendments

Labor Bill Has 2 General Divisions

By JOHN W. BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The new labor bill just passed by Congress has two general divisions—measures dealing with internal union reform, and amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act.

The controversy that accompanied its passage dealt almost entirely with the Taft-Hartley amendments. The various bills proposed were in wide basic agreement on reform measures.

Here, in brief, are the broad provisions of the bill compared with the House and Senate versions out of which it was fashioned and existing provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. In the case of the reform measures there is no existing federal legislation.

HOT CARGO AGREEMENTS
Under these, an employer, usually a carrier, agrees to boycott goods coming from another employer with whom the union has a labor dispute. The Taft-Hartley law contains no ban against them.

The House banned all such agreements. The Senate banned only those involving motor carriers in interstate commerce. The final version adopts the House provision.

SECONDARY BOYCOTTS
The Taft-Hartley Act prevents a union from trying to persuade groups of employees to boycott goods. But loopholes have permitted a union to achieve the same result through individual workers and employers.

The Senate bill contained no provisions against secondary boycotts. The House drew up a general ban closing the loopholes. The final version contains the House provisions but permits continuation of existing agreements in the garment and construction industries against farming out work to nonunion subcontractors.

AFFIDAVITS
The Taft-Hartley Act requires non-Communist affidavits to be filed with the National Labor Relations Board by union officials. The House bill repealed the section. The Senate bill extended it to employers seeking NLRB services. The final version adopts the House provision.

NO MAN'S LAND
Under present Taft-Hartley law the NLRB, as a practical matter, frequently declines to intervene in small labor disputes. Courts have held that state agencies cannot act in such cases, thus creating a no man's land in which the small labor dispute is neglected.

The House provided that state labor boards and court could assume jurisdiction in such cases and apply state law. The Senate said only state labor boards could intervene and would have to apply federal law. (Only 12 states have labor boards). The final version includes the House provision in full.

PICKETING
There is no Taft-Hartley ban at present against picketing to force an employer to recognize a union. The House bill prohibited such picketing where an election for union recognition had been held within 12 months, where another union had been recognized, or where the picketing union could not show it spoke for at least 30 per cent of the employees.

The Senate limited the ban following an election to nine months rather than 12. It also ruled out picketing where another union had been recognized.

The final bill includes the House provision in full.
ECONOMIC STRIKERS
Taft-Hartley law prevents workers on strike for higher wages or better working conditions from voting in representation elections. The House provided that a representation election could not be held for at least a year during a strike, but did not go into the question of voting.

The Senate bill permitted economic strikers to vote as long as they were on strike. The final version permits them to vote during a period of one year from the time the strike begins.

Those are the major Taft-Hartley changes. The finally adopted union reform measures are close to both the House and Senate versions, which differed mainly in their smaller details.

In the Bill of Rights section both House and Senate made violation of a union member's rights a federal crime. The House fixed maximum punishment at one year in jail and a $1,000 fine. The Senate made it two years in jail and a $10,000 fine. The final bill makes enforcement a matter of civil action in federal court with no criminal penalties.

Both House and Senate called on unions to make public full financial reports and to account for all financial transactions between officers and members and outside parties. The Senate bill exempted unions with fewer than 200 members from the reporting requirement, but the final bill includes the House provision that no unions are to be exempted.

The House and Senate were generally agreed on procedures under which a union could assume temporary control over a local, but the House set an 18-month limit for such trusteeships and the Senate a 12-month limit. The House 18-month limit was adopted.

In the section dealing with union elections the Senate banned ex-convicts from holding union office. The House added present or former Communists to the list and the final version includes the House provision.

The bill provides that the Taft-Hartley amendments will take effect 60 days after the President signs the bill. The union reform measures will take effect at varying times to permit unions to make the necessary adjustments.

park will remain open for picnics and teenage dances.

Tomlinson Run State Park's swimming pool will close Monday night at 8 with a new attendance figure already in the books. N. T. Holbrook, park supervisor, reported.

Over 45,000 swimmers have passed through the turnstiles of the pool on Route 2 in Hancock County so far this year, compared with the previous attendance record of 39,000.

Tomlinson Run ranks first among West Virginia's recreational parks in total attendance each year.

Holbrook added that boating facilities also will close Monday but the park will remain open for picnickers and fishermen the remainder of 1959.

Weekend Weather

To Be Sunny, Warm

Temperatures are going to warm up for the holiday weekend but the long-range forecast indicates showers may dampen Labor Day.

It will be sunny and warmer with more humidity today and Sunday and clear and less cool tonight. Today's high will be 83 to 88 and tonight's low 61 to 66. The five-day forecast sees thundershowers Monday and possibly Tuesday.

said the swimming area will close after Labor Day. Picnicking will continue as long as the weather is good.

Organized camping ends Oct. 15, and the tent and trailer area closes Dec. 15. Some 12,000 are expected over the holiday.

Midland's Veterans Memorial Pool will close after Labor Day, Louise Granito, manager, said.

Free outdoor concerts and dances will mark Labor Day festivities Sunday and Monday at Rock Springs Park with music provided by Johnny Chick's orchestra from East Palestine.

The park will open at 1 p. m. and the concerts will begin at 4. All amusements and concessions will be open, but Monday will be the final day of operations for the Chester park for 1959.

Free dances will be held both nights at Virginia Gardens, Robert Hand, park manager, said.

The annual East Palestine City Park athletic contest program for youngsters will be held Monday morning from 9 to 12 with cash prizes donated by merchants. Paul Morris of the Park Commission will be in charge.

Picnic facilities are expected to be crowded for the Labor Day weekend, and the City Park pool will close Monday night after a summer of record attendance.

The other park facilities for picnics, tennis and other sports will be available as long as weather permits Thomas Quilter, park manager, said.

LISBON — The Sadie P. VanFossan Community Swimming Pool will close Monday, ending its fourth and most successful season. The Pool Commission announced. The pool had warm weather all summer for the first time since opening on Memorial Day 1956.

No increase in traffic was reported this morning in the areas of the Lisbon and Wintersville State Highway Patrols although a heavy holiday surge is expected by late afternoon. Both barracks reported traffic about normal.

Traffic

Ripley, W. Va., about 2½ hours before the fatal crash.

The council has estimated the traffic toll may reach 450 in the period that began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and will end at midnight Monday.

By comparison, only 307 persons died in motor crashes throughout the nation in a corresponding 78-hour period of a nonholiday weekend two weeks ago. That weekend was surveyed by The Associated Press to reach a figure against which to gauge the impact of holiday traffic.

The first reported traffic fatality of the current holiday period was recorded at North Reading, Mass., late Friday where a woman was killed in an automobile-truck collision.

From the fatality standpoint 1951's Labor Day weekend was the worst in history. Then 658 persons died in traffic, drownings and other accidents.

The 1951 weekend also was the worst Labor Day holiday on record for traffic deaths—461.

For any holiday period, the four-day Christmas period of 1956 was the worst killer. A total of 884 persons lost their lives. The traffic toll was 706—the highest for any holiday on record.

At Least 6 Claimed On Ohio Highways

By The Associated Press
At least six persons have already died on Ohio's highways with the long Labor Day weekend hardly under way.

Safety officials have predicted that at least 27 persons will die in traffic smashups on the state's roads before the holiday is concluded at midnight Monday.

The Associated Press' survey of accidental deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday.

The first reported traffic death was that of Byron D. Petering, 22, of Brookville, near Dayton. He was killed when his motorcycle collided with an automobile Friday night.

Three persons were killed early Saturday in an automobile collision on Ohio 2, about six miles northeast of Hockville in Defiance County, which is about three miles east of the Indiana line. The dead are John L. Davis, 33, of Kokomo, Ind., driver of one of the cars; his passenger, William O'Neil, 32, of Toledo, and Joseph L. Perkins, 41, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., driver of another car involved.

Another accident early Saturday took the life of a Findlay man, Clark J. Ellinwood, 23. His automobile figured in a collision with a tractor-trailer truck just north of Van Buren, near the Wood County line.

George Woodworth, 43, of Saylor Park, a Cincinnati suburb, was killed late Friday night near that town as an automobile in which he was riding went out of control on a curve and hit an embankment. Donald Soudrette, 36, driver of the car, suffered arm and head injuries.

Chester Firemen Aid Lawrenceville Unit

Chester volunteer firemen at a meeting Friday night at the fire station donated $10 to the Lawrenceville department, which is buying a new truck. A donation of $10 was received from J. A. Bower of 1st St.

The firemen decided to start their weekly bingo game Oct. 1 at the station.

Games will be played each Thursday night during the fall and winter. Proceeds will aid the department.

Harley Freeman was named to have the neon sign at the station entrance repaired and painted.

Lunch was served 20 by William Glover and committee. Next meeting will be Oct. 2.

Man Reported Critical

CLEVELAND (AP) — Roy Marcum, 25, is in critical condition in St. Alexis Hospital today after a shooting at the home of his father-in-law.

Marcum had gone to the house to see his wife Judy, 18, who went there Friday. She told her father, William Holbrook, 56, that Marcum had threatened her.

World's 7th Largest Church To Be Dedicated On Nov. 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's seventh largest church, designed to become a shrine for Catholic pilgrims from every part of the country, will be formally dedicated here Nov. 20, more than 45 years after the project was first conceived.

The church is the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. It is the largest Catholic church in the United States.

Dedication ceremonies will be conducted during the annual meeting of Catholic bishops of the United States, with Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, presiding.

Rising about two miles north of the nation's capitol, the huge structure has been under construction for 38 years.

Its architecture is described as a combination of modern, Romanesque and Byzantine.

Built at a cost of nearly 30 million dollars, the church is surpassed in size square feet only by St. Peter's Basilica, in Rome; the Cathedral of St. John the Divine Episcopal, New York; Cathedral of the Nativity of Mary, Milan, Italy; Christ Cathedral, Liverpool, England; Cathedral of Mary of the Chair, Seville, Spain, and St. Peter's Cathedral, Cologne, Germany.

The idea of building a great shrine dedicated to the Virgin Mary was conceived by the late Bishop Shahan in 1914 on the eve of World War I. Sixty years earlier, in 1846, the Catholic groups of the United States had chosen Mary as the patron saint of this country's Catholics.

It was not until 1920, however, that the task of financing and building the shrine was begun.

The work was slow, largely because of a lack of funds.

A major feature of the church is a million-dollar bell tower financed by the Knights of Columbus. When completed, it will rise to a height of 329 feet.

The church is located on the campus of Catholic University, which will seat 3,000 persons and can accommodate seats for a maximum 6,000.

The Folks Behind The Church...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How To Overcome Resentment

Not long ago I received a letter from a real estate broker in Texas. He wrote not to sell me a house or some oil property, but because a friend had sent him a little booklet I had written called "Try Prayer Power."

He felt that this booklet had been "God sent," for it arrived at the time of the greatest crisis he has ever faced. Another real estate dealer had "double-crossed him" and caused him to lose a very sizable commission. He felt that what the man had done was illegal, dishonest, and at the very least, unethical. My correspondent's first thought was to bring charges against the man through their real estate board in an attempt to drive him out of business.

The loss of the expected commission was more than he could afford and the injury just too much to bear. There was no length to which he wouldn't go to get back at his competitor, to show him, to get even with him. A powerful surge of hate such as he had never felt welled up in him against this man. And it continued for several days.

"THEN CAME that morning mail," he wrote, "and your little booklet, Try Prayer Power. There it lay on my desk, its words facing me — Try Prayer Power. I was hatefully asking what I could do in this terrible situation and there was my answer — Try Prayer Power. But I brushed it aside. I wasn't going to pray! I was going to get that man!"

The title, however, continued to haunt him. He did not read the booklet at first, but he did think about prayer. Finally, he got down on his knees, somewhat tentatively, and he said to the Lord, "I'm full of hate and full of resentment, but somehow I feel that that attitude isn't going to do any good. Help me feel differently." He returned to his knees many times until finally he prayed his way through his problem. Ultimately he became able to overcome his resentment and although it was extremely difficult for him at first he was at length actually able to pray for his "double-crossing" competitor. He said to himself, "He can't be very happy after what he's done to me; I will pray for him that he will make things right with himself and find peace."

ONE MAN had gained some money and lost peace; the other had lost money but gained peace. Who was the smarter of the two? Prayer seems to be a common sense way of living, doesn't it? He explained his feelings to me in his letter as follows: "Never in my whole life, had I had such an experience of the presence of God as I did when I prayed my way through that hate and resentment." And he concluded: "I really feel the Holy Spirit is come upon me."

And, of course, that is exactly what had happened when in prayer he emptied his heart of corroding hate and ill will and let the love and understanding of God flow through to him again. One of the greatest truths taught in the New Testament is this: "Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Spirit is come upon you." And that power is a wonderful thing. It gives real victory.

The way we handle such powerful emotions as resentment indicates the depth of spiritual power in our lives. It is a sad fact that some people are formally religious all their lives but never really know the meaning of spiritual power.

They attend the services and faithfully perform all the observances of their particular faith, yet they never have any real power in their lives. They remain weak, and sinful, full of fear and conflict. And sometimes they wonder, "Does religion really work, after all?"

Yes, it does work. But it works only when you really try prayer power—when you really ask God's help in overcoming resentments and resolving conflicts. So try prayer power the next time you have a resentment problem, or any kind of a problem, and see for your self how it will work for you, as it did for the real estate man in Texas.

2nd Wildcat Strike Closes Auto Facility

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Chrysler Corp. stamping plant at Twinsburg was closed Friday by the second wildcat strike this week. Picket lines were established at three parking lot entrances after the company fired 12 men for leading the first walkout that ended Thursday. Only 100 of the 1,000 second shift employees passed the pickets.

Spokesmen for Local 122, United Automobile Workers Union, said at a meeting following the shutdown that the company was "totally arrogant" in its attitude toward setting the dispute.

"The unanimous opinion was that the people are not going to return to work until the disciplinary action is cancelled," said Bob Weissman, recording secretary of the local.

A company spokesman said the 12 were fired because "their actions were in direct violation of the no-strike clause of the Chrysler Corp.-International UAW contract."

Fired were Nick Kosovich, president of Local 122; vice president Ed McGuire, five stewards and five other union members.

The company said the 12 led a walkout of 62 employees Wednesday. That resulted in 3,500 production workers staying away from their jobs.

Weissman said the union members voted Thursday to return to work if the company refrained from disciplinary action against anyone for the unauthorized walkout.

The walkout Wednesday reportedly was the result of an employee being injured at the big stamping plant. A report that two men were injured after returning to work Friday was denied by the company.

The Chrysler spokesman said the company would not negotiate with the union until the workers returned to their jobs.

Hope Of Finding Missing Trooper Reported Slight

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Capt. Thomas Grant of state police said today that the chances of finding a missing state trooper alive "are diminishing by the hour."

The ex-convict he had set out to question when he vanished two days ago had shed no light on the disappearance of trooper Albert Souden, 29, and Grant said: "We have found nothing to disprove his story."

"Our big problem now," Grant said, "is finding our officer."

Grant said the man held in Souden's disappearance refused a lie detector test Friday night.

Alvin W. Knight, 48-year-old ex-convict and one-time mental patient, was rushed here for questioning after his arrest at a woodland cabin in northern Michigan Friday. Souden disappeared outside downtown Howell.

Driver And Nine Passengers Hurt As Bus Rams Rig

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Greyhound bus driver and nine passengers were injured on the Ohio Turnpike Friday night when the bus crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer loaded with steel.

The crash occurred at the bottom of a steep hill near the U. S. 21 interchange, about 15 miles south of Cleveland. Turnpike police said a dense fog was hovering over the road and could have contributed to the accident.

The bus driver, Richard Crosby, 34, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., was trapped in the wreck two hours. He was reported in critical condition at Medina Community Hospital because of loss of blood. He also suffered a compound fracture of the leg.

Maurice A. Lavens, 44, of Ney, Ohio, driver of the truck, escaped injury.

The bus, en route to Chicago from Philadelphia, had about 25 passengers.

One passenger said the bus driver yelled: "Hold on... brace yourself." Then there was a crash, she said.

Lays Smoke Screen
TULSA, Okla. — Neighbors became concerned when they saw smoke billowing from the garage of a house. Investigation disclosed a young man had been cooking hamburgers on three charcoal grills in the yard when rain began falling. He moved the grills inside the garage and kept cooking for 40 of his fraternity brothers.

Strike Nipped At Meat Firm; Pact Extended

CHICAGO (AP)—Extension of an old contract to Sept. 12 has averted a strike by meat packing unions against Wilson & Co. But a walkout against Swift & Co., biggest packer of all, entered its second day today.

Announcement of the Wilson extension came at 11:30 p.m. Friday, a half hour before a scheduled strike which would have affected 6,500 workers in seven cities. The unions seek increased wages and benefits.

Agreement came after a 9½-hour session between Wilson and the United Packinghouse Workers of America and Amalgamated Meat Cutter and Butcher Workers in the offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Federal commissioner Douglas Brown said the agreement carries provisions for renewing the extension after Sept. 12. Meetings will continue, but no dates were set.

The Wilson pact with the unions expired midnight Monday. Workers have been staying on the job during negotiations.

Actually the unions began a strike against Wilson at 12:01 a.m. Friday—the same time as the one against Swift—but it was immediately called off to permit negotiations.

No progress has been reported concerning the Swift strike. More than 17,000 strikers in 34 cities have halted all operations of the firm. The unions said reports from locals showed the walkout "completely effective."

The unions are seeking a contract similar to the one negotiated with Armour & Co. Monday. It called for pay increases and benefits totaling 22 cents an hour for 14,000 workers. Present wages average $2.56 an hour.

All the major packers but Swift and Wilson have signed agreements or made tentative settlements. The latest Friday covered 4,500 workers of the Oscar Mayer Co. in Madison, Wis., and Davenport, Iowa. Its terms are similar to the Armour pact with some other improvements, the unions said.

3 Killed, 4 Hurt In Headon Crash

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. — Three persons were killed and four others injured, at least one critically, in a head-on truck-car collision about five miles north of here last night.

The coroner listed the dead as Mr. and Mrs. William Ernest Edwards, both about 50, and their daughter - in-law, not otherwise identified, all from nearby Leon.

The injured were taken to a Gallipolis, Ohio, hospital. Attendants listed them as Ernest and Louisa Jane Edwards, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards; Charles Stover of Letart and James E. McCune of Gallipolis.

A funeral home attendant said he understood the Edwards couple, their daughter - in-law and Stover were riding in the car which collided with a pickup truck believed driven by McCune.

Conclave Is Canceled By County Scout Group

The Columbiana Boy Scout Council has canceled the conclave scheduled Thursday at Beaver Local Public School. This relationship conference was to have featured Dr. A. E. Iverson of New Brunswick, N. J., national scouting aide, as principal speaker. It was necessary to cancel the meeting because of a series of conflicting meetings, Russell Barrow, organization and extension chairman for the scouts, announced.

The conclave will be rescheduled sometime after the first of the year.

march to sweep past rival New Cumberland, 13-0, in opening the area's 1959 football action Friday night at New Cumberland.

Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers were put to a stiff test in their initial game by surprising New Cumberland, but packed too much wallop and speed for their Class A neighbors.

Halfback Billy Mayhew electrified a crowd of some 1,500 fans by rambling 70 yards for Chester's first half touchdown shortly after the Cumberland squad had made its only serious threat of the game.

The Panthers added another early in the fourth quarter by moving 47 yards in only four plays. Fullback Ken Sayre climaxed the short series by crashing over from 11 yards out. The extra point came on a short off-tackle slant by Mayhew.

Both squads performed savagely for so early in the season and line play was especially rugged. The heavier and more experienced forward wall of Chester played a major role in the successful initiation of the season for the Panthers.

New Cumberland, short on depth and size, battled their Class AA rivals to the final gun, but saw their lone touchdown maneuver nullified because of an offside penalty.

Mayhew, a 150-pound letterman, turned in an outstanding performance for Chester and perhaps removed some of Amedeo's dismay at losing last year's star fullback Don Shaw through graduation.

In 15 cracks at the small but game New Cumberland line, Mayhew picked up 136 yards, including his second quarter touchdown run.

His running mates of Sayre and Bob Shaffer also ground out huge chunks of yardage and served notice to future foes that Chester won't be lacking an offensive punch this autumn.

In his first varsity performance at quarterback, John Bickerstaff, 130-pound junior, proved he could handle the assignment in the ball handling department, but didn't fare too well in passing. However, Chester tried only two aerials and both fell incomplete.

Big Ron Haynes, 170-pound fullback, was the chief offensive threat for Coach Charlie Miller's Raiders and was particularly effective on wide end sweeps or short passes.

Haynes spent most of the night trying to crash into the Chester secondary and several times looked as if he would go all the way. But each time the Panther defense stiffened and New Cumberland's penetrations were halted each time outside Chester's 10-yard line.

Quarterback George Harris tried to keep the Raiders in contention with an aerial show and a 20-yard connection to Charles Miller in the end zone was successful but was nullified by the penalty.

Harris heaved 20 passes, mostly in the final period, and managed to complete nine.

Amedeo remarked after the opening victory that "with a little more work, the team may really go places this year." "We get better as the season progresses," he said, "and barring injuries we should be alright this year."

Particularly effective on Chester's line was the rugged trio of John Steele, and Steve Chapko, 170-pound tackles, and Larry McSweg-in, 180-pound center. All three came through with bruising tackles during crucial moments and drew praise from Amedeo.

Two Cumberland linemen—Fred Huff, 150-pound end, and Dale Fryer, 140-pound center—were equally as rough in blocking and tackling. Harris also sparked defensively.

The low score of the game reflected an outbreak of "opening season jitters" of both teams as fumbles occurred rapidly during important touchdown drives.

Chester was hurt the most by the bobbles, losing four of five to New Cumberland. The losers fumbled four times and gained possession twice. Several fumbles were attributed to jarring tackles.

Chester will be seeking victory No. 2 in entertaining South Side High School next Friday night at Chester City Park.

New Cumberland will attempt to get on the winning trail next Saturday at Northwestern (Pa.).

Tennis Stars Post Victories

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., (AP) —

Remember the moody, almost snarling Dick Savitt who would brood for hours after losing a tennis match?

That fellow has disappeared from the scene and a new Dick Savitt is playing in the National Championships this year.

"That's right," said the big guy, who has steadfastly refused to play on the Davis Cup team since he got in a hassle with Captain Frank Shields in 1952. "Now I play strictly for fun and I'm a lot more relaxed. It might help my game, too."

Savitt, at 32, has played in only three previous tournaments this year. But he still has the strokes, as a youngster by the name of Martin Riessen will quickly agree.

In the first round Friday, Savitt came upon Riessen, a 17-year-old from Hinsdale, Ill., who is being counted upon to help the United States regain the Davis Cup in a couple of years. Result: Savitt by 6-6, 6-0, 6-1.

All the top players who got into action on the first day of the 10-day grind moved ahead.

Chief Alex Olmedo, the slumping U.S. Davis Cup star by way of Peru, headed the advance with a 6-0, 6-1, 6-1 triumph over Big 10 doubles champion Gerald Dubie of Detroit. Olmedo is seeded No. 1.

Earl (Butch) Buchholz Jr., St. Louis, Olmedo's cup doubles partner, had a tussle before downing Robert Bowditch of Worcester, Mass., 9-7, 6-3, 6-3.

Australia's Rod Laver, seeded No. 4, turned back Arthur Ashe, a promising 16-year-old Negro from Lynchburg, Va., 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

Roy Emerson, No. 8, another ace from Down Under, defeated John Skogstad, Coral Gables, Fla., 12-10, 6-1, 6-1.

The other top seeds get into action today. They include Neale Fraser, No. 2, Australia's one-man Davis Cup gang; Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, No. 3, and India's Ramanathan Krishnan, No. 5.

Haynes spent most of the night trying to crash into the Chester secondary and several times looked as if he would go all the way. But each time the Panther defense stiffened and New Cumberland's penetrations were halted each time outside Chester's 10-yard line.

United Has Heavy Team; 11 Lettermen On Squad

By BOB DUFFY

Review Sports Editor

When contemplating teams to watch, mark down United High School. Coach Ray Russell didn't offer any predictions on the 1959 season, but after looking over the Golden Eagles, it appears anything can happen.

United will field the heaviest team in the district, with three linemen and one back over or close to the 200-pound mark. The overall average of the team will be around 170.

Seven regulars were lost from last year, but Russell has 11 lettermen back and doesn't seem too worried about finding experienced personnel.

ONLY three spots are unsettled—quarterback and the two guards. The backfield will be led by big Jim Summer, a 210-pounder who is the third fastest man on the team. Summer will run from fullback. The "giant" on the line will be Bob Koerlin, who weighed in at 230 pounds. Koerlin, a letterman, will be used at center, while Ron Berger, a 200-pound junior, will be bidding for a tackle spot. The other big man is Frank Shagnot, who goes about 195. He will be used at end.

Russell said he will use a "winged-T" again this season and at present Larry Marks, a sophomore, has the inside track on the quarterback spot. He is receiving plenty of competition for the job from John Hanna.

Lester Blanchard (165) probably will start at wingman, while Russell says it is a tossup between Jerry Marks (160) and Russell Wood (160) for the other halfback spot. Paul DeVille (130) also will see some action in the backfield this season.

OTHER lettermen are Dave Bailey, a 155-pound end, who has been sitting out the last few days after pulling ligaments in his leg.

Bob Coleman (175) is shooting for a tackle spot, while Allen Knizat (175) is in a wide open battle for a guard post along with Glenn Willis (185), Don Willis (150), both sophomores, Wade Courtney (160) and Jim Russell (150). Knizat is the only letterman at guard.

Bill Taylor (170) has the inside at one of the ends.

United won two games last season, tied two others and lost four. Russell will see his team in action for the first time Sept. 19 at Randolph. The first home game is scheduled Sept. 26 with Chester. All home games will start at 2:15.

Assisting Russell this season is Bob Penrod and Larry Joseph. Joseph, a Kent State graduate, is a newcomer to the United staff.

Colts, Bears Stay Unbeaten

By The Associated Press

If pre-season exhibitions are a true indication of form, it'll be a tango for two in the National Football League's Western Division title chase and a rock 'n' roll session for the Eastern championship.

Pairing off for the second straight year as the high-steppers in the West are the NFL champion Baltimore Colts and Chicago's Bears, the only teams undefeated in exhibition play.

The Colts made it four in a row Friday night as Johnny Unitas threw three touchdown passes to halfback Lenny Moore for a 30-21 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Bears (3-0), runners-up in the West last season, will try to keep their slate clean tonight when they tackle Washington (1-2) at Jacksonville, Fla., in a nationally televised game. It'll be carried by ABC starting at 10 p.m. (EST).

The situation in the East is jumbled, indicating a tight scramble for top honors.

Leading the pack are the Chicago Cardinals (3-1), who finished in a tie for last in the 1958 campaign. Down at the bottom are Cleveland's perennially tough Browns (0-3) and New York's (1-2), Eastern titlists last season.

The Browns will try to nail their first victory against the Rams (1-1-1) at Los Angeles tonight while the Giants take on resurgent Green Bay (2-1) at Bangor, Maine. The Cards meet San Francisco (2-1) at Seattle.

Don't Count Us Out, Bucs' Skipper Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—If any pessimists are counting the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the pennant race, they should listen to Manager Danny Murtaugh.

"There still are four clubs who have a shot at the pennant," the unhappy Murtaugh said after the Pirates lost 3-0 Friday night to the lowly Philadelphia Phillies.

He referred to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh.

As a result of the defeat, Pittsburgh's third straight on the current road trip, the fourth-place Pirates failed to gain ground on front-running San Francisco, which lost 2-1 to Chicago. They trail by 5½ games. The loss also dropped the Pirates two games behind third-place Milwaukee.

"We just didn't hit," Murtaugh explained. "Jim Owens pitched a good game."

Owens (11-11) allowed the Pirates only six hits. Pittsburgh has scored only one run in its last 26 innings of play.

Both Murtaugh and Dick Groat, team captain, agreed that the last disastrous road trip in which the Pirates won only 6 of 19 games, and the current slump, resulted from a lack of hitting.

Members of the auxiliary will meet in the fire hall Tuesday at 8 p.m. Officers will be in charge of refreshments.

Firemen will complete the final touches to the second floor of the new addition in the fire hall before meeting night.

60,000 Expected To Watch Browns And Rams Tonight

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The

Cleveland Browns, still looking for an exhibition victory after three tries, take on the Los Angeles Rams tonight before an expected crowd of 60,000.

Milt Plum, last season's regular quarterback, will be making his first start for the Browns in the pre-season series. For the time being, coach Paul E. Brown has given up on his experiment with Jim Ninowski, who started at quarterback in the last three losses.

Jim Brown is expected to see considerable action at fullback. Cleveland has beaten the Rams three straight, with Brown carrying the load in the running attack.

Injuries may force coach Brown to make some changes in his defensive backfield.

With Friday night meetings canceled during football season, the next will be at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 17, when the Juvenile Grange will elect officers.

Installation of Pomona grange officers will be held Saturday night, Sept. 19, at Yellow Creek Grange.

City Man Injured In Pottery Mishap

A city man hurt while at work Friday was admitted to City Hospital where four other persons received treatment for minor injuries.

James Gordon, 42, of Maine Blvd. is in "fairly good" condition today with severe lacerations of the small finger of the left hand suffered when he caught his hand in a press at the Harker Pottery Co. yesterday morning.

James Wolfe, 13, son of Frank Wolfe, 1709 Pennsylvania Ave., sprained his left foot while playing football.

Daniel Heath, 2, son of Mrs. Norma Heath of Glendale Rd., Newell, cut his right foot at play in the afternoon.

Mrs. Geraldine Rice, 34, of Wellsville R. D. 1 cut her left arm on a jar while canning.

John Savage, 4, son of William J. Savage of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, fell from bed and lacerated his chin last night.

Ohigan Among 6 Hurt In Copter Crash-Land

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (AP)—Airman Second Class E. E. Bynum 21, of Zanesville, Ohio, was among six men injured in a helicopter crash-landing 70 miles north of here Friday.

The H-21 helicopter was returning to the U. S. Air Force base here after a supply flight to Hope-dale, about 130 miles away.

HIGHLIGHTS OF PARADE. A crowd of 3,500 lined Glenmoor streets Friday night for the annual Glenmoor volunteer fire department's parade. Seventy-five units participated. Jesse Blackmore of East End, pictured in his 1905 Reo, had the oldest car in the line. Crowned king and queen were Wilmer Bryson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Bryson of the Y. & O. Rd., who received a watch, and Miss Carolyn Beagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Beagle of Lisbon St., who received a savings bond. Other parade prize winners were East Liverpool High School Band, best; Wellsville High School Band, second; Leetonia volunteer fire department, oldest truck—a 1927 Pirsch; White Township of Beaver County, best-equipped truck; Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285, best drill team; Job's Daughters, most women in line; Edgefield department, most men in line; Pleasant View department, best comic outfit; Moorefield Township department at Piedmont, farthest distance; Lallie Karlzro of Monaca, best antique car—1933 Packard, and Dan Millidge of Aliquippa, furthest antique car trip in a 1927 Willy's Knight. Unscheduled fireworks resulted when a main feeder electric line burned out and shutdown the carnival about 10 p. m. A matinee will be held this afternoon and Monday afternoon. The carnival also will be open tonight and Monday night.

Hospital Auxiliary To Assist In Renovations For 5 Rooms

Renovation of five private rooms in the old wing of City Hospital is scheduled as a result of action taken by the Executive Board of the Women's Auxiliary at a meeting Friday afternoon in the Nurses' Home.

Mrs. William E. Dunlap, president, named Mrs. Charles H. Bailey and Mrs. Clair Chambers as co-chairman of a committee to work with hospital officials in providing the decorations.

Tentative plans call for new floor covering, beds, overhead tables, dressers and lamps in addition to newly painted walls and woodwork and draperies. Furnishings will be similar to those used in the new wing.

The board also voted to purchase additional equipment for use in the operating room and reading lamps for the public waiting rooms on recommendation of Miss Nell Robinson, hospital superintendent.

Following the opening prayer, members heard reports by Mrs. William R. Kelly, secretary, and Mrs. William J. Horgan, treasurer. Mrs. J. W. Smith reported for the Snack Bar and Gift Shop.

Mrs. Burton Kerr called attention to the Remembrance Fund service, of which she is chairman, reminding the board that anyone in the community is welcome to use the service. Cards are sent as a memorial to the family of the deceased in the name of the donor. Money from this fund has been earmarked for a future chapel in the hospital, Mrs. Kerr said.

Mrs. Horgan announced that all workers in the snack bar should wear uniform emblems and may obtain them from her.

The board decided to purchase and install a postage stamp machine in the Snack Bar as a convenience.

The president announced that the Northeast District meeting of Hospital Auxiliaries will be held Sept. 15 at 10 a. m. in the auditorium of Akron Children's Hospital. Reservations will be accepted by Mrs. Dunlap until Sept. 12.

The annual business meeting for the auxiliary will be held Sept. 24 at 1:15 p. m. in the nurses' classroom.

City Council's Action On Bills To Be Delayed

City Council will meet Tuesday night at 8—a day later than usual because of the Labor Day holiday—but no action is scheduled on three pieces of proposed legislation because of the expected absence of two members.

Only five of the seven voting members are expected to attend the first September meeting, but at least six affirmative votes are required to enact an ordinance or resolution on one reading under suspension of the rules.

Councilman William Y. Orr is on vacation and Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. has been called out of town.

Action is pending on: An appropriation measure to provide $2,000 to $2,500 for seal-coating the blacktop pavement of outer St. Clair Ave.; first enabling legislation for relocation and repair of the Carpenters Run trunk line sewer, and a bill to finance attendance of two firemen at a state arson school.

Council President B. E. Warner said a special session probably will be scheduled to enact the legislation some time in advance of the next regular meeting, which falls Sept. 21.

Council will meet in a caucus session at 7:30 with representatives of the three East Liverpool motion picture theaters, who will renew a request for repeal of the 3 per cent city amusement tax on their admissions. On two previous occasions, Council has decided against repealing the tax. In 1958, the tax produced $7,231.76.

Lisbon Schools Ready To Resume Wednesday

LISBON — Summer vacation will end Wednesday for approximately 1,450 pupils in Lisbon Exempted Village School District.

The high school will take up at 8:25 a. m. and Lincoln and McKinley elementary schools at 8:55 a. m., all for a full-day session.

A teachers' meeting is scheduled at 8:45 a. m. Tuesday in McKinley School for the system's 61 teachers, nurse and other uncertified personnel.

Bus schedules will be approximately the same as last term and cafeterias will be in operation the first day.

New Contract Ratified By Ceramic Workers

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A new 32-month contract was ratified Friday night by ceramic workers who left their jobs at the East Sparta plant of the U. S. Ceramic Tile Co. June 2 when their previous contract expired.

The pact, which covers more than 700 workers, calls for an immediate five-cent-an-hour pay raise across the board and an additional six cents an hour next July 1. The workers now average $1.71 an hour.

Negotiators for Local 45 of the United Glass and Ceramic Workers of North America had recommended approval of the contract.

About 150 workers represented by the union's Local 37 at the firm's plant in Parkersburg, W. Va., will vote on a similar contract tonight.

Seaman Ends 'Boot'

NEW WATERFORD — Seaman Rct. Daniel R. Taylor, son of Mrs. Joseph W. Taylor, has completed "boot camp" at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

50 Attend Meeting Of Midland PTA

The 7th St. Parent-Teacher Association met Thursday afternoon in the Midland school with 50 members present for the first fall session.

Mrs. John Coughlin gave the invocation and Mrs. William Black, president, led group singing accompanied by Miss Gloria Ann Gengerella.

Mrs. William Mahoney, kindergarten teacher, addressed the kindergarten mothers. Supt. Dr. Ralph H. Jewell, introduced the teachers.

The group signed "get-well" cards for Miss Margaret Hogan, elementary supervisor, and Mrs. Anthony Migliore, program chairman, as they could not attend due to illness.

Mrs. Frank Lavrusky, hospitality chairman, was assisted in serving punch and cookies by Mrs. Mark Yandrich and Mrs. Joseph Vuynovich. The table was decorated with an arrangement of mixed summer flowers.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 1.

Bettles Desert Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hordes of Japanese beetles are deserting the Buckeye State in favor of Michigan's green pastures. The two states' Agriculture Department heads will meet in Toledo Tuesday to see what can be done to decrease the emigration.
